there's apt to be a nitch.

The league cannot finish successfully with three clubs, for it would mean a lay-off for one team every week, and also a cut down in the players' salaries, which the majority would not stand.

Tomorrow evening's meeting will probably straighten out all the targets and ably straighten out all the tangles, and then the game will go booming.

DIAMOND DUST.

Marty McQuald, the philosopher of the Salt Lake team, who went to Boise, has been signed by the Spokane team, of which "Dud" Risley is captain.

"Captain Joey" Kostal and Bradley "Captain Joey" Kostal and Bradley of the Lagoon team will appear in court next Monday to fight the case brought against them for jumping the Western league. This will be another test case, similar to the Leajole contest between the National and American leagues, when the player won out, and it is likely to result in the same manner here.

Billy McCausland is suffering from a lame hand, received in the game with Pocatello Wednesday. The "fat boy," however, will be in condition for the Ogden game tomorrow.

"Pink" Hawley is down to pitch for the Salt Lakes at the Lagoon Sunday, and Blmer Mercdith will do the slab work against Ogden tomorrow after-noon. Hickey will probably be in the game, with Tommy Cope at second. Denver Post: Just who is backing the Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah, teams is somewhat of a mystery. But whoever it is, seems to have plenty of money. Several players of the California league have been approached and offered as much as $250 a month and the guarantee of a good job for the winter. Many of the California players are taking advantage of the opportunity and signing with the Utah league. The team in Salt Lake City is drawing great crowds, and baseball is on a paying basis, regardless of the high salaries they are paying the players.

"BOB" MOFFAT'S PRIZE.

His Midnight Marriage Was at County Clerk's Expense,

The midnight marriage of "Bob" Moffat, night inspector of the Utah Light & Power company, and Mrs. Wetdt of Pueblo, Colo., which was occasioned by the delayed arrival of the bride Wedhesday night, was performed without costing the groom a cent. Even the wedding permit was given him as the capital prize at the big drawing. It came about in this way: June 28 was Caledonian day at Lagoon. County Clerk James put on a Highland costume and went out to enjoy himself with the rollicking Scots. The clerk is Welsh, but on that day he palmed himself off as a Scot, and as a penalty for the capital prize at the big drawing. It came about in this way: June 28 was Caledoniari day at Lagoon. County Clerk James put on a Highland costume and went out to enjoy himself with the rollicking Scots. The clerk is Welsh, but on that day he palmed himself off as a Scot, and as a penalty for the deception the committee compelled him to offer some kind of a prize to be compeled for at the pleasure resort. Clerk James squared himself by writing out an order for a marriage license and the cost of performing a ceremony free of charge to any person at Lagoon on Caledonian day, provided the order be presented within hinety days.

Somehow "Bob" Moffat drew this order for the prize, but no one suspected that he would, have any use for it, even if it became old with age.

Not until after Mr. Moffat had se-tempted to break into Hewlett Bros. cigar factory near Seventh South and State streets early this morning were thwarted by the wakefulness of a nurse and the savage howls of a buildog. About 2 o'clock this morning Mrs. Brown, who was nursing a sick patient in the residence just north of Hewlett's factory, was awakened by the crash of a window, and, upon looking out, saw two men at a window of the factory. She screamed for help, and the howls of a buildog startled by her cries scared the men away from the factory. The screams of the woman and the barking of the dog attracted Mr. Samuelson, living nearby, and seizing his revolver, he ran and awakened Mr. Hewlett, by firing the gun in front 61 his house.

On the way back to the store they met a tall man, who pretended to have been attracted by the noise, coming up the street with Mrs. Brown, but as soon as possible he slipped away from the party, and was seen to join another man about a block away. It is believed that he was one of the burglars. The politice are looking for them.

The procedure decided on, said Mr. Weaver, is to mandamus the council, compelling the levy of a special tax. This would require an additional levy of about 3½ mills. The assessed valuation of the city is in round numbers about $8,000,000. This would, if all was collected, furnish about $2,000, but as there would be some delinquents and the expense of collection would be considerable, a 3½-mill levy would likely be needed.
